Dear Henry:

The arrangement outlined in the attached memorandum, providing for cipher instruction to [Redacted], may seem a bit awkward for you in that it means that they will handle material to which you do not have access. It seemed the best way to set it up, however, in view of your impending transfer in order to restrict cipher work to two individuals at each Bureau. At any rate, it will relieve you of this particular headache.

Sincerely yours,

L. K. WHITE
